

QUALITY POLICY

It is the aim of Burgess Architectural Products Ltd., to achieve or exceed our customers' requirements, as contracted by terms of specification, drawings and documented instructions, whilst adhering to the requirements of ISO 9001: 2000.

Burgess Architectural Products Ltd., will provide all necessary equipment, training and communication needed to achieve these aims.

It is the responsibility of all management to collect, analyse and review relevant data, to monitor the ongoing effectiveness and suitability of the Quality Management System and to provide for functional improvement within all areas of our business.

We aim to provide the best possible products and service in order to retain and secure future business from existing and new customers; to the benefit of all concerned.

R. J. Burke
Managing Director,
Burgess Architectural Products